

Think of the convenience and ease with which you could get all your legal matters dealt with if a lawyer or solicitor visited your home, workplace or even your sports club or the hospital.

One Fraser Coast law firm will do just that.

Swift Legal Solutions boasts one of the most experienced legal teams in the region and offers competitive, affordable fees.

Owner and solicitor Judica Swift said the company liked to do things "a bit differently".

"We understand that you might be unable to go to a legal office so we come to you," Judica said.

"Now you can get the service and expertise you expect, but in the comfort of your own home or workplace - and all this at no extra charge. We even offer an after-hours or weekend service by arrangement.

"For a lot of people dealing with solicitors can be daunting and the legal field can be difficult to understand and interpret.

Judica said Swift Legal Solutions provides advice in plain, simple to understand English.

"We go out of our way to make sure clients understand exactly what is happening with their legal matters.

"Swift Legal Solutions also offers a fixed-fee solution for most matters so you know what costs you will incur.

"We don't have big expensive offices to maintain so we can keep our overheads to an absolute minimum. Savings we can then pass on to our clients.

Judica said the legal system could at times be expensive for people to access, so her team made sure there were no excess or exorbitant charges for administration tasks like phone calls or photocopying fees.

The Swift Legal Solutions team can help with wills and estates, enduring powers of attorney, advanced health directives, and retirement living options to name a few. They also have fixed-fee solutions for small businesses, family law matters, and even those who want to represent themselves. One area that is really growing in popularity is Binding Financial Agreements.

"Most people don't want to go to court to sort out property issues after a relationship breaks up, Judica said.

"Having agreed on who owns what can avoid that. Binding Financial Agreements can be done before, during or after the relationship for both married and de-facto couples.

Swift Legal Solutions also has a highly experienced property team headed by conveyancing expert Lyn Ford. The team can provide up-to-the-minute advice on buying and selling a property.

Swift Legal Solutions has visited offices in Hervey Bay, Maryborough, and the Gold Coast.
